myClippings released!

MOApp Software Manufactory has crafted and just launched a new software program on the market: myClippings - the cute clipboard manager with long-term memory.

myClippings is designed for ease-of-use and most important of all: speed! It won't store yesterdays breakfast toast - but the much more useful remaining 99 percent.

Words, Phrases, Numbers, Paragraphs and Texts...

It won't slow down, hang or crash. Even with thousands of stored clippings and best of all - you are free to archive often needed clippings and also grouping them is a no-brainer. You can paste a recently used clipping into an active window, view or field with two (three) simple steps and in less than a second. If you like you can also re-use your clippings by drag-and-drop and they can also be printed and exported.

myClippings is designed to run in the background for days, weeks and month without using much system resources - including old G4 machines running Tiger.

If enabled myClippings will automatically auto-save its changes. You might forget to pay your utility bill, but your clippings are save! myClippings also supports the export and import of your entire archive as a single file.

You can test myClippings out in the demo version without any limitations by clicking on www.myownapp.com. myClippings is available at a reasonable price of 7 EURO. myClippings is compatible with the Mac OS X 10.4.11 or higher.
